

Gee, There are Two Ways to Play G

Stretch!

There are two different ways to finger a “G” chord. The chord diagram below shows one, the photo shows another. Both rock in their own way...try them both and see which one is easier for you. Use the tips below to help you make the shape. Strum the chord with a pick, then play one string at a time to check the sound. Play all six strings.

Tips for Chord Fingering

- ✓ Curve your fingers like cat claws.
- ✓ Thumb is straight up and down on the back of the neck parallel with the frets
- ✓ Each finger touches just one string.
- ✓ Place fingers close to the frets.
- ✓ Press hard enough to get a sound.

The C Chord

Looks like a line!

Use the tips below to help you make the shape. Strum the chord with a pick, then play one string at a time to check the sound. Play the bottom five strings.

Tips for Chord Fingering

- ✓ Curve your fingers like cat claws.
- ✓ Thumb is straight up and down on the back of the neck parallel with the frets
- ✓ Each finger touches just one string.
- ✓ Place fingers close to the frets.
- ✓ Press hard enough to get a sound.